

2009 Income Tax Extension Payment

Your tax is due April 15, 2010, even if you are filing Form M1 after the due date. Use these instructions to determine the tax you must pay by the due date to avoid penalties and interest.

Do not use this form if you are filing Form M1 on or before April 15, and paying your tax after the due date.

All tax must be paid by April 15, even if you have an extension to file your federal return. There are no extensions to pay your Minnesota individual income tax.

If you will be filing Form M1 after the due date, estimate the total tax you owe and pay that amount by April 15, 2010. Your payment will be credited to your 2009 estimated tax account. You can pay electronically, by credit card or by check.

If you pay after April 15, your payment will be considered delinquent and will be applied to the amount you owe on your return. The payment will not be credited to your 2009 estimated tax account.

If you pay at least 90 percent of your total tax by April 15, 2010, and file your Form M1 with payment of the remaining tax due no later than October 15, you will not be charged a late payment penalty. If you fail to pay your tax as required, a 4 percent late payment penalty will be assessed on the tax not paid by the original due date. Interest of 3 percent per year will be assessed on any unpaid tax and penalties from the original due date until paid in full.
